ONE SDSU COMMUNITY EVENTS

Mon, 8/24, 5-7p Montezuma Hall – One SDSU Community Kickoff
Celebrate the diversity of our campus through food, music and performances while connecting with cultural student organizations, students, faculty, staff and community members!

Thurs, 9/3, 9p-12a Montezuma Hall – International Music & Arts Festival
With two stages of live international and cultural music, this will be the scene of an environmental art and music festival. Students will be able to make their own art pieces with recycled material.

Thurs, 9/10, 6-830p Theatre – Challenge Day
A 2-hour experiential program that increases student awareness and empathy regarding diversity and inclusion at SDSU. The program fosters an environment of inclusion and campus-wide unity; builds a trusting, open, and connected school environment; and provides a shared vocabulary around our campus towards core values of self-awareness, empathy and cultural identity.

Tues, 9/29, 6-830pm Theatre – “The Mask You Live In”
A production of the Representation Project, The Mask You Live In examines the societal pressures men and boys face to “be a man.” A discussion and panel to follow.

Thurs, 10/1, 6-830p Theatre – “The Delano Manongs: Forgotten Heroes of the United Farmworkers Movement”
The Delano Manongs documentary tells the story of farm labor organizer Larry Itliong and a group of Filipino farm workers who instigated one of the American farm labor movements – The Delano Grape Strike of 1965 that brought about the creation of the United Farm Workers Union with Cesar Chavez, Chicano leaders and other ethnic workers. A discussion and panel to follow.

Thurs, 10/8, 5-7p Templo Mayor – Circle Circle Dot Dot
Join us both throughout campus earlier in the day and for a final performance and discussion of this theater piece that reflects the experiences of students right here at SDSU. Participants will learn about the realities of students with a focus on those of diverse sexual orientations and gender identities.

Tues, 10/13, 6-830p Theatre – “The Music Within”
This film is based on the true story of Richard Pimentel, a keynote speaker, with a troubled past who returns from the Vietnam war with severe tinnitus which effectively deafens him. The film follows his life and experiences which ultimately shaped him to be one of the people most responsible for the movement to recognize people with disabilities deserving equal treatment and rights. His advocacy played a major factor in the passing of the Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA). In addition to showing the film, Richard Pimentel will speak and allow students to ask him questions.

Thurs, 10/22, 6-830p Templo Mayor – Aztecs Rock Hunger Panel Discussion
Introducing the idea that homelessness and food insecurity is something that can happen to any student, this moderated panel discussion will be kicked off by an intro of the Aztecs Rock Hunger campaign, including a short video featuring a homeless college student, followed by a panel conversation featuring students who have experienced homelessness and food insecurity within the SDSU community.

Thurs, 10/29, 630p Montezuma Hall – One SDSU Community Speaker Jessica Pettitt
Jessica Pettitt, a former Student Affairs professional and progressive speaker, inspires audiences to “be the change” around social justice issues that speak to them. She injects humor while empowering participants by creating a call to action.

Fri, 11/6, 4-6p Theatre – One SDSU Community Speaker Kelly Holmes
Kelly Holmes is the founder of Native Max, the first Native American fashion magazine. She is also editor-in-chief, creative director, publicist, model, stylist, and is also one of the main writers. She will give a presentation about why she was inspired to create Native Max, as a woman and a Native American, and also share her experience in the world of journalism.

Thurs, 11/12, 6-830p Montezuma Hall – Homecoming: Aztec Leaders Past, Present & Future
Join former and current Aztec student leaders as they discuss the issues of civil rights, student engagement, community development and campus activities that faced former Aztecs in the 60’s, 90s & 2000’s and current SDSU students.

Sun-Wed, 11/15-11/18 6-830p Residence Halls – Journey to a Shared Humanity
Designed to educate the students at SDSU on a variety of social issues; increase awareness, sensitivity, and understanding of oppression through a series of multi-sensory experiences; lastly it should initiate and increase dialogue regarding oppression; thus, challenging beliefs and attitudes.

Wed, 11/18, 10a-1p Montezuma Hall – International Peace Village
Join us for a showcase of the diverse cultures and countries of the SDSU international students and student organizations through music, art, dance, cultural performances, and displays.

Tues-Wed, 12/1 & 12/2, 12-6pm Montezuma Hall – World AIDS Day: The Names Project, AIDS Memorial Quilt
Join us in remembering the lives of San Diegans and Aztecs who have lost their lives to AIDS and help us celebrate their memory. A film and discussion will follow the Quilt viewing beginning at 6:00 PM on December 1. The quilt is available for viewing on both December 1 and 2 from Noon to 6:00 PM.
