Gender & Leadership: Overcoming the Impostor Syndrome
Have you ever felt like an impostor in your leadership role? Studies show that women and folks from traditionally marginalized groups tend to attribute their successes to external factors like luck or outside help. As a result, these leaders don’t always feel deserving of recognition. Join us for a discussion and gain tips to overcome the “impostor syndrome”!
Presenter: Jessica Nare
Women’s Resource Center

Wednesday, March 9th
Be the Best Part of Someone’s Day
Imagine being able to skillfully communicate with just about anyone, anywhere, anytime. Using lessons from top companies around the world (Apple, Sony, Linux, & Red Bull), we’ll take a closer look at what it means to be an everyday, mindful leader who thrives on love and adventure.
Presenter: Kevin Corcoran Jr.
The Adventure Learning Project

Friday, March 25th
Developing a Mind Map
A mind map is a useful tool to help visualize your future. This workshop will walk you through the process of creating a mind map to develop your career path. Creating a path beginning with the big picture will help you focus on what opportunities you should take advantage of while still a student at SDSU.
Presenter: Dr. Tita Gray
College of Business Administration

Monday, April 4th
Practice Makes Excellence: Vocalizing the Leader in You
The interview process can seem like a daunting experience. How do you stand out from others in an interview? This workshop will allow you to identify your strengths as a student leader, and develop thoughtful answers to those seemingly difficult interview questions.
Presenter: Leanna Biddle
Student Life & Leadership (SDSU)
Career Services (UCSD)
